Maersk commits to revamp Tyra gas field after Denmark legislates for tax reform

Maersk Oil and its partners in the Danish Underground Consortium (DUC) have reached a final investment decision (FID) to redevelop the Tyra gas field in the Danish North Sea – extending production for 25 years.

The DUC reversed an earlier decision to decommission the field and has now earmarked DKK 21 billion (USD 3.35 billion) for full redevelopment of Denmark's largest field ...
