Mitsubishi scoops trio of US orders for ‘hydrogen-ready’ gas-fired power plants

Mitsubishi Power Americas has been selected to build three hybrid power plants fuelled by a mix of natural gas and ‘green’ hydrogen produced via electrolysis of zero-emissions renewable power. The projects in the states of New York, Virginia and Ohio are worth more than USD 3 billion, the company said today.

The subsidiary of the Japan-based conglomerate MHI Group will deploy its ‘Hydaptive’ package that integrates ...
