Petronas gears up to take FID on FLNG facility by year-end

Petronas is aiming to take FID on a floating liquefied natural gas facility by the end of the year, which could make the Malaysian FLNG project leapfrog ahead of production at Shell's recently approved Prelude FLNG facility in Australia. "We will get the first commercial cargo by early visual_editor015, with the project completed by visual_editor014," CEO Shamsul Azhar Abbas said, admitting the timeline is "tough to get".
