Lukoil sharpens focus on gas

Russia's Lukoil said on Thursday that it plans to increase the share of natural gas in its overall output from visual_editor0% in visual_editor011 to more than 35% in visual_editor0visual_editor1, with projects in Uzbekistan forming a key part of the growth. Lukoil's strategy includes achieving a higher utilization level of associated gas production, and it is eyeing potential unconventional gas projects in Russia.
