Buccaneer agrees gas sales contract with ConocoPhillips to extend Kenai's life

Australia's Buccaneer has agreed to supply gas to ConocoPhillips Kenai peninsula LNG facility, which was due to shut down this year. The contract – valid until April 2021 – will start this month when Buccaneer's Kenai Loop project begins production. Buccaneer is not obligated to sell any gas under the contract, but can sell up to 5 Bcf to ConocoPhillips under the agreement.
