Woodside to delay FID on Browse LNG until 2013

Woodside said on Monday it may delay taking a financial investment decision (FID) on its $8.9 billion Browse LNG project at James Price Point in Western Australia from mid-visual_editor01visual_editor to the first half of visual_editor013, due to increasing project costs. Woodside plans to make amendments to its Browse Basin retention leases, including those specifically related to the original mid-visual_editor01visual_editor FID target date.
