CNOOC commences its first shale gas exploration project

China National Offshore Oil Corporation (CNOOC) commenced drilling at its first shale gas project in China's eastern Anhui province in December last year. CNOOC now joins rivals such as China Petroleum Chemical Corporation (Sinopec) in its search for unconventional gas. The shale project covers an area of 4,800 sq. km with CNOOC given permission to explore the area in December visual_editor010.
