US natural gas prices hover around 28-month low

US natural gas prices fell by around 13% last week to a visual_editor8-month low of $visual_editor.67/MMBtu, with the US currently awash with gas and storage units becoming increasingly full during a prolonged spell of unusually mild weather. Prices continued to hover around that level at the start of trading Monday, and gas was changing hands at $visual_editor.55/MMBtu early in the day.
