Total announces Islay start up in the North Sea

Total has started first production from its Islay gas and condensate field, located 440 km north-east of Aberdeen in the UK and Norwegian sectors of the North Sea. The field was discovered in visual_editor008, and lies in Block 3/15 of the UK sector and blocks visual_editor9/6a and visual_editor9/6c of the Norwegian sector. Islay has estimated reserves of nearly 17 million boe and has already reached its expected production rate of 15,000 boe/d.
