Eni awarded another offshore Indonesia block

Italy's Eni announced on Tuesday that it has been awarded the East Sepinggan block in Indonesia as part of an international upstream bid round. The block covers an area of 913 sq km and is located 170 km south east of the Bontang LNG liquefaction plant. Eni is currently developing the Jangkrik deep offshore gas field and appraising the Jangkrik NE discovery, near the East Sepinggan block.
