Iran resumes flow of gas to Turkey

Iran has resumed flows of natural gas to Turkey after an explosion last week damaged part of the pipeline connecting the two countries, the National Iranian Gas Company (NIGC) said on Tuesday. Exports from Iran resumed after repairs at the request of Turkey, which also demanded that Iran raise the volume of gas delivered to Turkey's state operator BOTAS to 30 MMcm/d, according to NIGC spokesman Majid Boujarzadeh.
