Argentina's YPF to drill 250 exploratory wells in energy boom bid

Argentina's YPF plans to drill 250 oil and gas wells by 2016 as part of its push to increase both conventional and unconventional gas production, YPF president Miguel Galuccio said on Thursday at the Council of the Americas in Buenos Aires. And contributing further to Argentina's exploration programme, Chevron said it planned to drill around 120 wells in Argentina during the next three years to search for unconventional resources.
