Australian LNG exporters avert east coast crisis but market ‘still tight’ – ACCC

The recent spate of pledges by Australian LNG exporters to supply gas volumes into the east coast domestic market have averted a looming supply crunch but structural issues remain in eastern and southern states, the country’s competition watchdog warned this week.

The Australian Competition and Consumer Commission (ACCC) said in its December interim gas market report that the east coast outlook in 2018 has improved but the supply-demand balance “remains tight” ...
