The CEGH interview: Gottfried Steiner, CEO

Based in Vienna, the Central European Gas Hub (CEGH) operates Austria's Virtual Trading Point (VTP), through which Russian gas passes into western Europe. CEGH also offers products on the pan-European trading platform PEGAS, with delivery at the Austrian and Czech VTP. Recently, however the hub has been looking to further extend its reach, agreeing a co-operation agreement this summer with Romanian TSO Transgaz to support development of a Romanian VTP hub. It also signed a similar MoU with Bulgaria's TSO Bulgartransgaz in December, to set up a "Balkan gas hub" in the country. Gas Matters talks with Gottfried Steiner, CEGH's CEO, about recent developments in trading activity and the significance of its co-operation deals.
